The board approved the employment of three bus drivers for the upcoming school year. These new hires are John Carr, Sonya Daniels, and Scotty McDurmont.

Also, the board accepted the resignation of bus driver Tammy Rakes, effective May 26, 2021.

For his final address on COVID-19 for the 2020-2021 school year, Killingsworth said the county school system had 217 total cases for the year.

"Many thanks to all of our students, parents/guardians, community leaders, and Coffee County EMA for everything that was done to help us make it through the COVID-19 pandemic," the superintendent said. "A very special thanks goes out to all of our employees, especially our school nurses. We couldn't have made it without your extraordinary effort and determination."

Killingsworth said he knew the 2020-2021 school year would be difficult.

"I also knew we had to try to make the very best of a difficult situation to benefit our students and employees," he said. "I am very proud to say that together we made it happen."

The Coffee County Board of Education will meet Thursday, June 3, for the regular monthly meeting. There will be a work session at 5 p.m. followed by the board meeting at 5:30 p.m.

May rainfall amounts up locally compared to 2020

by Ferrin Cox, Publisher

Rainfall in the Southeast portion of Alabama is up for the month of May and 2021 as compared with 2020.

The rain gauges operated by Choctawhatchee, Pea and Yellow Rivers Watershed Management Authority (ChocPea) indicated the Elba related May rainfall almost doubles that of April and the year-on-year comparison up some three inches.

The Pea River gauge at U. S. Hwy 84 recorded 5.18 inches in May 2021 compared with 2.64 inches in 2020. The Big Creek measurements were 5.20 in 2021 and 2.60 in 2020 while the Folsom Bridge measurements (at Hwy 167) were 4.57 inches this year compared with 2.80 inches last year. Lowery Mill (at Co Rd 215) got the most rain in May with 5.33 inches, up from 2.52 last year.

Overall the watershed area average year-to-date was down one inch from last year at 25.45 inches compared with 26.45 inches last year. This was the results of lower rainfall this year in January, February and in some area, in April in addition to a computer crash causing data loss in February.

Alabama DHR reminds public to watch for signs of elder abuse

The Alabama Department of Human Resources (DHR) is encouraging the public to help protect older family members, friends, neighbors and others from elder abuse by learning to recognize the warning signs of mistreatment.

Thousands of elderly and disabled adults are abused, neglected and exploited in Alabama every year. Last year alone, DHR's Adult Protective Services Division investigated 10,566 reports of elder abuse across the state.

Gov. Kay Ivey declared Tuesday, June 15, as World Elder Abuse Awareness Day in Alabama to raise awareness about the problem.

Alabama DHR Commissioner Nancy Buckner said, "The older adults in our lives cared for us and kept us safe when we were young and vulnerable. Now, it is time for us to return the favor by protecting them from those who wish to cause physical, emotional and financial harm. We owe it to them to speak up if they are being mistreated."

An estimated 1 in 10 Americans over age 60 have experienced abuse. Victims include adults of all genders, races and incomes. The problem is expected to worsen as adults live longer and become more dependent on others for care. Alabamians can help protect those at risk by watching for these warning signs:

- Increased fear or anxiety
- Isolation from friends or family
- Withdrawal from normal activities
- Unusual changes in behavior or sleep
- Unexplained injuries, bruises, cuts or sores
- Unsanitary living conditions and poor hygiene
- Unusual or sudden changes in financial spending patterns, will or other important documents

Report suspected elder abuse by calling the Adult Abuse Hotline at 1-800-458-7214, emailing aps@dhr.alabama.gov or contacting a local DHR county office. All reports are confidential and may be made anonymously.

The Elba Farmers Market will be open Saturday, June 5, from 8-11 a.m. at its new location - next to TigerTown Park.

"The best way to teach your kids about taxes is by eating 30% of their ice cream" – Bill Murray

Memorial Day has come and gone for another year. It seems this year there were more words and/or actions directed toward actually pausing to honor the memory of those who gave their life so that each of us can live in relative peace, and voice our opinions without fear of prison and/or death. Yeah, we know, America is going through a phase of violence and general unrest at every level, but our belief is that things will get better – in time. However, it will take participation by virtually every person in this country for it to work. Little things like a local citizen relating a recent incident when she and her husband experienced some unknown person paying for their meal at a restaurant. There are incidents of that happening every day, even at fast food drive thru windows. "Paying it forward" is a wonderful way for America to uphold the ideals these veterans gave their life to preserve.

Something has bothered us for years and we wonder just what we are missing on this issue. Law enforcement officers are called to the scene of a person talking about shooting himself/herself (usually a male). The law enforcement officer then kills the individual while admitting the person was not threatening anyone else but had his weapon pointed at his own brain. There are even mental experts who believe some of these folks are inviting the law enforcement folks to kill them (suicide by proxy). Whatever is happening, we don't understand the thinking of the person who should be deescalating the situation actually shooting the individual "because he had a gun pointed at HIS OWN head." No doubt opinions vary all across the board on this issue, but none we have heard meant to justify the shooting seem to fit. Yes, the officer stopped the suicide . . . but the person is just as dead, only by someone else's hand. Reminds us of the remark that has been around for eons that is sort of a slap at the medical profession, "the operation was a success but the patient died."

Texas officials are openly talking about charging an extra $200-$400 annual fee for electric vehicles to offset the loss of gasoline taxes. At first this struck us as – well unfair. Then it sank in that someone must pay for those roads to be paved and repaved because of the wear and tear of vehicles. Remember, the government has no money that it doesn't take from its citizens. Electric cops charge a fee to people who have solar panels to generate their electric power reportedly to cover the cost of standby power. So it stands to reason that the politicians want the electric car user to pay his or her fair share of the road maintenance. Frankly we can't disagree, however we are still a bit uneasy with the idea.

While thinking about the electric vehicles another thing is keeping us confused. What is the solution to all these electric vehicles predicted to be on the roads in a few years getting recharge power when a hurricane (or a massive Texas size freeze) hits and electric power is out for days and/or weeks? The only solution we have heard is to buy a standby portable generator . . . powered by gas!

Enterprise native Katie Boyd Britt, President & CEO of the Business Council of Alabama, has officially resigned from her position with the Business Council as of June 4th. The former chief of staff for U S Senator Richard Shelby has been mentioned as a candidate for his replacement as he retires at the end of this term. The resignation notice only said she was "pursing other interests" but our bet is that Katie will be a candidate for U. S. Senator . . . and one to beat.

Cuzin Lou Lou's
Tales from Yonder

Editor's Note: Cuzin Lou Lou's tales are to be enjoyed as a light-hearted form of Southern expression

Sister and Papa were most likely lost most of last weekend's Memorial Day holiday weekend as Cuzin Lou Lou took off on a rare adventure without them! The more exact way to describe it is that Sister and Papa probably let off a sigh of relief to get rid of Lou Lou for a couple of days!

Lou Lou's adventure took her down to the Florida Panhandle and the Bay County beach! It apparently was the same place everyone else, except Sister and Papa, were too as the crowds were enormous!

Lou Lou's initial intent for the getaway was to watch some youth baseball as she had a vested interest on one of the teams. Her little E-man got himself a tourney ring too as his team went 4-0 in the competition to claim the championship!

Lou Lou was quite impressed with the ball-park facility in PCB...there was shade and some more shade for the spectators all over the venue. That is not always the case, but those who oversee this particular park gained kudos from Cuzin Lou Lou for thinking outside of the box and making sure their venue offers plenty of shade to escape the heat!

After the ballgames concluded, it was off to enjoy the beach, pool and other fun things with little E-man! A trip to a popular arcade pitted Lou Lou against E-man and his mom for a race car battle.

Lou Lou showed off some savvy arcade driving to pull out a second-place finish to E-man's mom in two separate showdowns. E-man was not happy to be beat by the girls, but he soon got over that when he beat his mom in another competition.

Lou Lou is demanding a rematch with E-man's mom! Both are of the competitive nature, and Lou Lou fell second to E-man's mom one too many times while at the arcade and other adventure venues!

There was lots of fun had over the weekend with even more laughs, but the best part about it was just spending time with E-man and his family. When Lou Lou headed home, it did her 'ole heart good when he kept saying, "I wish you could just stay here with us another night!"

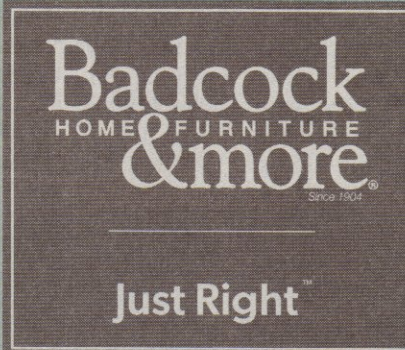

Hopefully, there will be lots more adventures to be had with E-man over the years, and maybe lots more chances to beat his mom at some sort of competition!!

Until next time...God Bless and Keep Smiling.

Understanding Grief for Military Families

Whenever we lose a loved one, we grieve, but surviving members of a military family may find themselves feeling a range of differing emotions if their loved one passes away while in military service.

Serving in the armed services carries risks, and families are aware of these risks when their loved one enlists. Military casualties are typically sudden and may occur after a long absence or even multiple deployments. It is possible the surviving family members would have not seen their loved one for a long time prior to the passing.

If a loved one passes away while serving in the military, the survivors will feel emotions unique to their circumstances. Family members may feel pride for their loved one's service, but they will also feel despair over their loss. They may feel anger at the military, depending on how the death occurred. They may feel relief because they no longer have to worry any more. This may also make them feel guilty. These emotions can be hard to deal with and as with any grief, healing will take time. Grief can also manifest itself in physical ways such as difficulty sleeping, loss of appetite, memory loss and difficulty concentrating. Unfortunately, there are no short cuts in the grieving process. The journey is different for everyone.

It is likely that surviving family members will also feel secondary losses. This includes changes in relationships and lifestyles. Family members may start to find it hard to talk to other military families who have not experienced a loss.

Eventually, if none of the surviving family members are in the military, the family will have to move from military housing. This can compound their grief. Surviving family members will have to form new social connections and create a new identity apart from their loved one.

Knowing where to turn for support can help. Fortunately, there are many resources and support groups available to military families. For grief resources, visit https://www.vetcenter.va.gov/bereavement_counseling.asp or contact our funeral home... we can help you find the resources you need.

ADPH to provide funding for shade structures for public schools

Although skin cancer is one of the most preventable cancers, an estimated 1 in 5 Americans will develop skin cancer in their lifetime.

The Alabama Department of Public Health (ADPH) encourages awareness about the dangers of overexposure to ultraviolet (UV) rays and the importance of practicing sun safety. Often children are vulnerable to exposure to UV rays on playgrounds or recreational areas during school.

The ADPH Comprehensive Cancer Control Program announces an opportunity for public schools to apply for funding for shade structures. The program provides funds to install permanent shade structures for outdoor locations that are not protected from the sun, such as playgrounds or recreational spaces.

Each shade structure grant is valued at a maximum of $15,000 which includes the cost for a shade structure and installation. The number of awards depends on the availability of funding each year. The deadline to receive applications is June 30, 2021.

Sun safety tips to help pro

The public is encouraged to ensure others in the community are aware of this funding opportunity. CHURCH and COMMUNITY

PASTOR'S CORNER

by Jeremie Turner, Pastor

Greater New Zion Missionary Baptist Church
720 E Davis Street, Elba, AL

Luke 6:47-48 – Whoever cometh to me, and heareth my sayings, and doeth them, I will shew you to whom he is like: He is like a man which built an house, and digged deep, and laid the foundation on a rock: and when the flood arose, the stream beat vehemently upon that house, and could not shake it: for it was founded upon a rock (KJV).

Which Foundation are You Building Upon?

Jesus, in these verses as well as verse 49, gives us a parable where He contrasts two men who built homes. Though certain things were the same, the difference was the end result. Plainly put, one man's end result was that his house was able to withstand against the storm, while the other house fell. Notice the language that Christ employs when He describes the ruinous condition of the latter's home – the devastation and "ruin of that house was great" (v. 49).

The foundation upon which one decides to build is so important that it will determine the strength of the home. The building materials nor the skill of the builder are as important as the foundation upon which the house will be built. So, Jesus lets us know that if we are to weather the storms of life that our foundation must be the Word of God.

As we look deeper into this text, notice what both scenarios had in common. First, both men had a decision to make as it related to their own home – the decision and choice regarding what type of foundation would be chosen – whereas one man built upon rock, the other built upon the sand.

Christ, in verses 46-47, has just shared with His disciples that we would do well to hear His teachings, follow them, and commit to them. Undoubtedly, there comes a time in one's life when he or she must make a decision that will determine the trajectory of his or her life. Thus, when we build upon the rock, we make a decision that will impact us now and for all of eternity.

Secondly, both men used material to build their own homes. The type of material that these men decided to use to build their homes are not specified in this text – and rightfully so as that is not the point of the parable. Whatever building material they decided to use was thought to be sure to last. In the end, however, only one man's hard work and efforts would stand the test of time. We must be careful not to dress our spiritual lives up with "good building materials" that we do not look after what is most important – our foundation.

Lastly, both men encountered a storm – a flood arose, and the stream beat vehemently. Once again, the difference was the foundation. For with one man, although he experienced a storm his home stood firm. The second man, on the other hand, encountered a storm that destroyed all that he built. We can be certain that it is Jesus and the Word of God who both respectively make the difference. As you build your Spiritual life, make sure that you build it on the Word!

Faith of the Generations

My grandfather was a troublemaker when he was young. But the Lord used his marriage to my grandmother to change him.

When Grandpa turned his life over to Christ, this often-angry drunk became a kind, peaceful man of faith. The couple's two older sons became ministers. Their younger son was a lifelong leader in the local church. One daughter married a minister, and another married an evangelist. The generations that followed have seen even more Christian leaders walking in the way of "their fathers" as ministers, teachers, and missionaries.

Other families could tell similar stories, demonstrating the value of the faithful generations that came before them. The faithful examples of our fathers and mothers can be honored only in continued faithfulness. When we make faith our own, God continues to honor His promises. Israel had to learn this lesson. We would be wise to learn it too. – C.R.B.

LIFESTYLES

The engineering team at Dorsey Trailer in Elba said so-long to longtime employee Roy Dillard last week as he entered retirement. Those pictured (from left to right) include: Isaiah Kears, Alex King, Roy Dillard, CJ Watson, Christian Spahlinger, and Karen Parmer. Dillard has been a staple of the engineering department of Dorsey for over 45 years, and he has been working in the trailer industry for over 54 years total.

Dillard retires from Dorsey Trailer after 45 years

Roy Dillard retired Friday, May 28, from Dorsey Trailer after 45 and a half years with the company.

Dillard had a total of over 54 years in the trailer industry. Throughout his career, he as worked in engineering, solving and eliminating issues with customers' trucks and trailers all over the world.

Dillard was very hands-on and was always looking for a way to help others. He trained many salespeople, and if it was left up to him he would fire them all he always says laughing.

Dillard is a fine Christian man that ministered to many individuals, he led many hearts to Christ, and his Dorsey co-workers are certain he will continue to do so in retirement.

The Dorsey team wishes Dillard well as he will most likely continue to practice his marksmanship and clay shooting on the weekdays now rather than just the weekends.

Roy Dillard is an all-around great man and will be missed by many associated with Dorsey Trailer and the trailer industry.

Wicker to coach squad

Elba's McCart named to 'South' golf all-stars

The North-South Boys' and Girls' Tennis and Golf All-Star Teams have been selected for the 2021 AHSAA North-South All-Star Sports Week, announced Jamie Lee, Director of the Alabama High School Athletic Directors & Coaches Association (AHSADCA).

The teams comprised of 2022 rising seniors were chosen by a special coaches committee from nominations received from AHSAA member school coaches.

"Golf and tennis are our newest all-star teams," said Lee. "They participated in All-Star Sports Week for the first time in 2019 adding a lot of excitement to our all-star program. However, like the rest of our all-star teams, they were unable to compete in 2020 due to the COVID 19 Pandemic concerns. This year's group of all-stars is a very outstanding group. We look forward to seeing them in competition in July."

The AHSADCA, which operates under the auspices of the Alabama

High School Athletic Association (AHSAA), also hosts annually North-South all-star games in volleyball, boys' and girls' soccer, boys' and girls' basketball, cross country, baseball and softball during the All-Star Week. The annual North-South All-Star football game was played last December. The South won 28-20 and now holds a 32-27-2 edge in the All-Star football series which has been played 62 times with the first game played in 1948.

The AHSAA Summer Conference, annually attended by more than 4,000 coaches and administrators, will still be July 19-23 this year.

The North-South All-Star golf coaches include: (North Boys) Chris Randall, White Plains; Chad Gladden, Hartselle; and Keat Litton, Spain Park (administrative coach); (South Boys) Mark Wicker, Elba; Alex Davis, Smiths Station; and Jay Koziol, UMS-Wright (administrative coach); (North Girls) Emily Stapler, Arab; and Keat

Litton, Spain Park (administrative coach); (South Girls) Adam Byrd, Auburn; and Jay Koziol, UMS-Wright (administrative coach).

The golf all-star competition will be loaded with a number of players who participated in the 2021 AHSAA State Golf Championships earlier this month. Perhaps the most notable is north all-star John Bruce of Class 5A state champion Guntersville. He carded a 2-under 70 in the state tourney, which was cut short due to rain, and he also fired a 66 in the sectional.

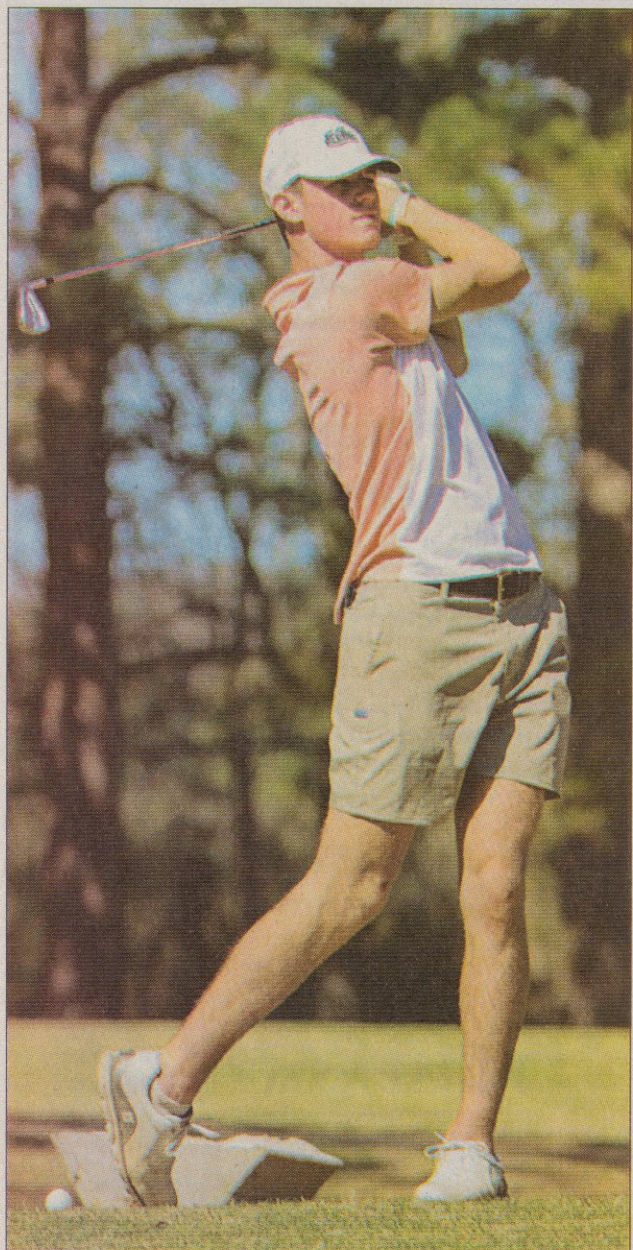

The South boys feature seven players who competed in the state tourney Peyton McCart helped Elba wins its first golf state crown in school history finishing tied for eighth in the 1A-2A individual competition. UMS-Wright's Will Howard shot a 75 to finish tied for fifth for the Class 5A runner-up Bulldogs, and Cole Komayati also shot a 75 in the Class 3A competition to also tie for fifth as the Admirals finished as state runner-up.

The North girls have six girls who competed in the state tourney with White Plains' Baylie Webb tying for third overall in the 4A/5A competition with a 75 for the state champion Wildcats. The South girls feature Class 7A state champion Spain Park standout Taylor Tribble, who shot a 4-over 76 to finish tied for ninth in the Class 7A state tourney. McGill-Toolen Catholic's Laura Burch, who shot a 27-hole 109 to earn low medalist at the 6A state tourney for the state champion Yellow Jackets, is also on the South squad.

The North dominated the 2019 inaugural North-South tennis and golf competition winning all four matches. The North girls won 58-5 to 55.5 in the match-play golf competition, and North boys won 63-5 to 50.5. Both now hold a 1-0 advantage heading into the 2021 matches.

The North boys and girls each won the tennis competition 8-1 and also lead the series with 1-0 records.

Elba Tiger golfer Peyton McCart will represent the 'South' at this summer's North-South All-Star Golf Tournament, set for June, in Montgomery. Tiger coach Mark Wicker will coach the South squad.

The sports world in south Alabama slows down quite a bit this time of the year and for the first time ever I have decided to slow down with it, at least a little, and give my column a rest for the month of June. I promise to return in July and keep everyone updated with the approaching high school sports seasons. However, until then those of you that enjoy reading my column each week will have something to look forward to, and those of you who don't enjoy reading what I write can look forward to the next couple of papers and not worry about what I may write. Hey, that is something for everyone to look forward to. Until then, enjoy the month of June, take some time off yourself, and GOD BLESS.

If you want to learn how to fish or increase your skills, be on the lookout for the "Go Fish, Alabama!" trailer that will be traveling Alabama's roads and highways this summer on the way to numerous fishing destinations.

The "Go Fish, Alabama!" program holds fishing events in areas like Public Fishing Lakes (PFLs), state parks and local lakes in or near metropolitan areas.

Last Saturday's destination was Bibb County PFL in Walter Owens Park near West Blocton. More than a dozen adults and children signed up for the event on the picturesque 100-acre lake with bass, crappie, bream and catfish. Several attendees found out about the event when the "Go Fish, Alabama!" trailer was set up at the Academy Sports + Outdoors location in Tuscaloosa on Friday.

Kasie McKee of the Alabama Wildlife and Freshwater Fisheries (WFF) Division welcomed the participants and explained how "Go Fish, Alabama!" provides the knowledge to advance fish and wildlife conservation across Alabama.

Other than fishing, the program attendees were provided instruction in ethics, safe fishing and regulations by Conservation Enforcement Officer Brandon Holloway, who explained that ethical anglers only keep the fish they need and do not waste fish. He said anglers should properly dispose of trash and excess bait, follow all applicable laws and regulations, practice safe angling and boating, respect the rights of other anglers and support conservation by purchasing a fishing license.

Holloway covered the basics of safe fishing - always tell someone your fishing plans and time of return, keep a close eye on the weather, be careful around sharp hooks and other fishing tackle, and be sure to bring along the essentials like sunglasses, water, sunscreen, cellphone and personal flotation devices (PFD). Attendees were provided a copy of the Alabama Hunting & Fishing Digest for easy access to fish identification, daily length and creel limits.

Next on the agenda was a Basic Tackle and Equipment 101 class taught by the WFF staff, which included Nathan Aycock and James and Blake Bamberg, who explained the differences of spincast, spinning and baitcasting reels. They covered rod lengths, weights and different rod configurations. For beginners, the spincast reel is the easiest to use, but, as new anglers' skills increase, the spinning and baitcasting reels can be used to target specific species of fish. The WFF team discussed casting methods that included safe casting by always looking behind you before you cast. They went over setting the drag on your reel as well as how to sweep the rod to set the hook. Attendees learned about how to tie a fishing knot, choose hook sizes to match the species and bring other tackle needed for a fun day of fishing.

Justin Grider, WFF's R3 Coordinator, finished the instruction by demonstrating the different ways to prepare fish for cooking, including filleting, skinning, gutting and scaling. He emphasized safety when using a sharp fillet knife and discussed how delicious freshly caught fish can be when cleaned and cooked properly.

The next "Go Fish, Alabama!" event is scheduled for Saturday, June 5, at Cosby Lake Park at 6275 Old Springville Road, Pinson, Alabama.

The rest of this year's schedule includes:

Friday, August 27, at Pike County Public Fishing Lake, 200 Pike County Lake Rd., Troy, Alabama

Saturday, August 28, at Dale County Public Fishing Lake, 861 Myrtle Drive, Ozark, Alabama

Alvin Briggs named new AHSAA executive director

Current Associate Executive Director Alvin Briggs has been selected to become the fifth Executive Director of the Alabama High School Athletic Association. The unanimously approved the hiring of Briggs at a special Central Board meeting Monday morning and the announcement was made by current AHSAA Central Board of Control president Van Phillips Monday at a press conference held at the AHSAA office today.

Briggs, 56, who has been on the executive staff of the AHSAA since 2011, will be taking over his new role as Executive Director officially on July 1. Steve Savarese, who has served as Executive Director for the 15 years, announced his plans to retire at the April meeting of the CBOC.

"I believe Mr. Alvin Briggs in the person who can meet the challenges the AHSAA will face in the coming years ahead with the same commitment to the AHSAA mission as the four executive directors that came before him," said Phillips. "He attended high school in the AHSAA where he was an outstanding student-athlete who went on to represent his family, school and the AHSAA well at the college and professional level."

"After coaching for several years at the collegiate level, he became a high school teacher, coach and administrator at our member schools again representing himself as the ultimate professional."

"I am honored, humbled and excited to be selected as the next Executive Director of the AHSAA," said Briggs. "I want to thank the Central Board Search Committee, Central Board President Van Phillips and current Executive Director Mr. Savarese for the confidence they have shown in me to lead this great organization in the years ahead."

"No doubt, I have big shoes to fill. The previous executive directors Cliff Harper, Bubba Scott, Dan Washburn, and Mr. Savarese have set some tremendous standards and have left a legacy of outstanding leadership for all our member schools. I pray I can continue to lead this organization in the same manner as these great men who have stood before me."

Briggs is the first person selected for executive director who was already working on the AHSAA executive staff. He brings a wealth of leadership and knowledge of AHSAA operations spending the last decade serving, first, as Director of the Alabama High School Athletic Directors & Coaches Association from 2011-2018 and for the last three years serving as the Associate Executive Director.

Savarese said Alvin Briggs' transition to Executive Director "will be a seamless transition. He has great staff in place and understands what this job is going to require. He is an outstanding leader, and I have full confidence in him."
